BRITANNIA'S BULWARKS. English Coast Defenses Sadly in Need of Repairs.

London, March 1st.-Stanhope, Secretary of War, has issued a memorandum relative to army estimates. He admits that, after a careful inquiry, it has been ascertained that deficiencies exist in the defenses of Portsmouth, Plymouth and the Thames, which render England's position dangerously insecure. Stanhope proposes that active measures be immediately passed by Parliament in order to remedy this weak-ness. He further states that the system of organization recently prevailing at the War Office appears singularly ill-calculated to promote a comprehensive examination of the whole subject, and explains the connplated reforms.

THE BURLINGTON STRIKE. The Newly-Employed Engineers Afraid

the Strike Will Soon End. CHICAGO, March 1st.—The Burlington officials are more confident than ever this morning. They said that a number of freight trains in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois have been moved. Several through trains came in this morning, and a full surburban service is in operation. About two hundred Reading engineers have arrived and were being examined today. Many of them have already been put to work. The men are fearful the strike will be settled at a conference to-day.

LATEST PHASE OF THE STRUGGLE.

CHICAGO, March 1st.—Late to-night it was given out that Grand Master Sargent had elegraphed to Henry Walton Chairman of the sale amounted to some $35,000. Among the principal sales were: The pacer L. C. Lee, to James Healey, of Leadville, for $10,000; trotting stallion Superior, to J. W. Page, of New York, for $7,200, and the trotter Block Dismond. telegraphed to Henry Walton, Chairman of the Brotherhood Engineers, requesting him to see all the members on the Reading road that have taken the places of the men that went out December 24, 1887, and reuest them to sever their connection with the company, and saying that they would be paid until they could find employment elsewhere, and allow the men w out to return to work. It was further said that this would assist the Brotherhood to win the struggle with the Burlington. Mr. Walton wired that he would at once transmit the necessary orders to the Brotherhood Lodges.

Let us look the matter squarely in the face. Is it true that in the case of most of our unenforced laws against crime the moral sentiment of the people really justifies the inactivity? If so, how came it that the laws were passed and approved? If the moral sentiment disapproves these laws, why is it not reflected in the representative body, and why does it not able that the franchise ought to command work the repeal of the obnoxious statutes? MUNICIPAL FRANCHISES.

Prof. T. Richard T. Ely, of Johns Hopkins University, is publishing in the Baltimore Sun a series of articles upon "Municipal Problems." As a rule theorists ected. It makes it very clear who is to be cavern, in which was a mattress, bed upon policies of municipal administration write over the heads of their readers. Not defines who are "Chinese laborers" and that the readers are less intelligent than who "passengers," so that Courts and the essayists, but generally their theories fail to come down to the application of date before which Chinese of prior resifeasible remedies, and to the level of the practical needs made manifest by misgoyernment in cities. If they would address themselves to eradication of the spoils system, and the making of bossism odious, all other ills, under business prudential administration, would disappear. Remove the political control of bosses, and the cities of the land, now the worst governed of any sub-divisions of government, would become the best governed branches of our system. Municipal indebtedness in the United States is to-day much greater than that of counties or States, and it is due almost wholly to political control and the absence of business wisdom. Upon one subject, a recent paper by Professor Ely appears to be sound. His proposition is for the sale of all future street railway franchises to the highest bidder, limiting the term to say fifteen or twenty years. The plan adopted by New Orleans is cited as an instance in which this system has been tried with excellent results. The sale in 1886 of one street railway franchise alone realized sufficient to defray one-eighth of the municipal expenses of that year, the city reserving the right at the expiration of the term to purand New York more recently have adopted the system, with good results. The one objection to the plan is the liability of the positive evil. Of course largely paying roads could always be resold, but the patronage that would attach to roads owned centive to bosses to keep the control in the Directors, all Woodland capitalists, are municipality. In New York the sale Thomas Ross, R. H. Beamer, J. D. Lawson. of such franchises developed corruption, but not probably so much as in the free granting of privileges to occupy the streets with tracks for half-century terms, as under the generally prevailing system. The preponderance of reason is all in favor of the plan of sale. Except in some small cities, street railway privileges are so valuownership by cities of gas and electric inevitable results. But this is by no the gas for street and domestic purposes is plants. It is true that in Belfast, Ireland, furnished by the city at a lower figure than when owned by private individuals. But Belfast is under a rule widely different from any that can prevail in American cities. It would seem to be a plain business proposition that competition in furdid the people, so recently as 1879, engraft nishing artificial light is the best regulator, the law upon the Constitution itself, thus just as it is in furnishing food. Excepting any one, in this community for instance, day is that the fewer institutions owned by water supply, the best judgment of the cities the better for them, as they are feedunenforced and openly, brazenly violated ers for bossism, and furnish constant sublaw? But we have that which, if not light of the experience of American cities, broken up, root and branch, may turn out we believe it is established that, no matter to be as disastrous to our prosperity as how artificial light franchises are disposed Anarchy and as destructive of democratic of, it is most economical for municipalities principles as radical Communism—that is to trust to competition, and that they buy

D. R. Clanton, Frank Hubbard. Colonel Irish and His Detractors. When San Francisco, by Colonel John I Irish and his Alta, proposed to entertain the next Democratic National Convention t had an advocate whose wide personal ac naintance with public men was and is secwas entirely due to him that the scheme had a single advocate, or any chance of success. By his urgent and able support, by correspondence and otherwise, he made he metropolis of this coast, with all its alurements, a prominent candidate for the with national reputations in their respec tive neighborhoods, began to catch on and handicap a project as important to this State as to the Democratic party, and which had everything to lose and nothing to gain | quently there is a greater amount of by their damaging pretensions. They are the same wretches who, in two recent poitical canvasses in this State, with spicidal insanity protested against putting Colonel Irish, the prince of campaigners, on the stump. They could and always can make themselves candidates for forbidden hon-ors, as they did in two notable instances in his State and with the same disastrons Fortunately for the party the baleful inuence of such fellows is limited and shortived. The momentous consequences of heir conceit and their martyrdom are confined to their bailiwick. They cannot be-foul with their dirty feet the fountains nor attend the enlargement of municipal the stream of national politics. Hence the party and the Administration are above heir contaminating touch, and are not reponsible for their idiotic blundering. Not vithstanding our disappointment at the lefeat of San Francisco, we know that the action of the Convention on the 5th of June at St. Louis is absolutely forestailed. Mr. Cleveland will be nominated, and Col Irish will be to his mendacious and malignant detractors, "as Hyperion to satyr."

A CAVE HERMIT.

a la Woodchuck.

A good deal of curiosity has just been that township of a troglodyte, who has taken up his quarters in one of the many cayerns with which the base of Rebel Hill abounds. The whereabouts of the hermit was first brought to light on Sunday, when Mr. Cooney observed him seated in the mouth of a natural cavern on the hillside indicated, sewing a button on some clothing. Chancing to remove his gaze off him a minute, when Mr. Cooney sought to take a more leisurely scrutiny of the stranger, the latter had disappeared, in what direction or by what means his discoverer did not stay to act much as she did from motives of to ascertain. Observing closely the locality character that will be ample guarantee jealousy or hatred or revenge. No other of the cave, Mr. Cooney communicated what he had seen to the neighbors, and last evening the gentleman before-named and another visited the honeycombed hill base, THE Senate Chinese restriction bill is with the purpose of having an interview not in every detail all we could wish, but with the interesting stranger. The burrow it is so much better than anything we have was first visited, but it was tenantless, alsigns that it had extremely thankful if its passage is ef- lately been inhabited. A few yards distant the discovery was made of a second clothes, cooking utensils, and a fairly stocked Mr. Cooney and his friend awaited the ar rival of the cave man, whom they rightly conjectured would return to his natura odgings about dusk. In a short time ne-armed attenuated man, in the neighborhood of 50, turned up, whom Mr. Cooner instantly recognized as the individual he ountered on the previous day. dered to throw up his hands, the troglodyte complied, when he was searched and quesioned as to his modus vivendi. On hi person were found a bowie-knife and a self-cocking six-shooter of expensive make In answer to the interrogations put to him, the solitary stated that his name was James Kirk; that he had never been in State Prison, and that for reasons of hi own he preferred the life of privacy his questioners had discovered him to be liv-

While it is conjectured that the hermit of Rebel Hill has been leading this isolated existence for a number of months past there is no trail leading to the second cave to indicate from what quarter it is usually approached. Our State School Books.

The California series of State school text-books are being received with favor by the leading education journals at the East The following reviews have appeared in the Clinton (New York) School-Journal

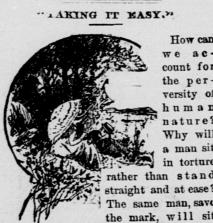

California State Series of School Text-Books. Speller. Compiled under the direction of the State Board of Education. Sacramento, Cali-fornia Printed at the State Printing Office

Among those who advocate the use of a speller, there is a diversity of opinion as to he best method of teaching spelling, some believing that oral practice alone is produc tiv eof the best scholars; and others, tha by uniting oral and written exercises, the greatest improvement is made. Upon the latter theory this book has been prepared that not only a practical knowledge of spelling might be attained, but a generous vocabulary acquired A leading feature of this speller is the classification of words reference to the elementary vowel sounds and their equivalents used in spell-ing them. Difficult consonant combinabeen grouped together while an endeavor all turough the book has been made to grade the work in accordance with the received special attention, as being among the most important words, and much care subscribed is $10,700, being more than $1,000 per mile for each mile of the prohas been given synonyms, werd-analysis. words found in the spelling list.

These two volumes constitute a part of the series of California text-books. The Second Reader is somewhat larger than is usual with a reader of that grade, having two hundred and eighty-eight pages. The paper is excellent, of soft finish, and the type clear and large. There are also a number of distinguishing features which value. For instance-the dictation exer cises, which form a regular part of the work to be done, from lesson fifty-one to the end, are of great value in helping a pupil to comprehend what he reads. There are also picture lessons, spelling reviews exercises with blanks to be filled, selections or recitation, proverbs, drills in articulation, exercises in changing the form of words, with other practical topics. The illustrations are new and good.

The Third Reader is quite an advance upon the Second. It contains two hundred and three selections of the best kind, in prose and poetry, from the best authors. Besides the selections for reading, there are also elements of elecution scattered through the book at regular intervals, which treat ing matter This series of readers is bound in dark brown, with black August Engles, a druggist, left home last Thursday with considerable money and has not been heard from since. Paddy Ryan, the pugilist, who was ar-rested at the instance of an Eastern man excited among the residents of Folsom, by named George Forrest, on the charge of the larceny of $150, had a hearing yesterday and was discharged.

At an early hour yesterday morning four Chinamen set upon Fred. Cronin, at Jack son and Kearny streets, knocked him down and stabbed him. His wounds will, it is thought, prove fatal.

A most peculiar stabbing affray took lace in the Franco-Swiss Saloon, at Kearny and Pacific streets, Wednesday night, by which Henry Gueran had his right hand transfixed to a table by a knife-blade which passed clear through the member He reached for the stakes, when his oppo nent, an Italian, drew a knife and drove i hrough Gueran's wrist, pinning his hand

GENERAL NOTICES.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little therub awakes as "bright as a button." It is every pleasant to taste. It scothes the child very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

A reporter called at the mill yesterday and found it in full blast. The machinery is very simple, not liable to get out of order, and those who have never witnessed machinery of this character in operation will be well repaid for making the mill a visit. The machinery consists of fourteen upright single-acting shaving machines, a cross-cut saw, a rip-saw, and a baling press, all run by a 100-horse power engine. The wood is cut up into 18-inch lengths and looks like stove wood. Who is Governor?

Many citizens who have political griev-Boruck, often ask, "Who is Governor?" as the Chief Executive. There now appears to be another Richmond in the field, who has such claims upon the Gubernatorial chair, that a Federal office in this city recognizes him and no other as the proper person to subscribe himself as "Governor of California." It appears that some time since, H. W. Baylor, a gentleman presided. Among the guests from abroad were Louis Metzgar, Louis Blank, H. L. Judett, J. P. Eisenbach, of San Francisco, and others. noon, by the attempt of Carl Lange, a German sailor, with rather a wild cast of countenance, to murder Judge James McM. Shafter. Few persons were in the vicinity at the time, and but for Judge Shafter's presence of mind Lange would have accomplished his purpose. As it was, he fired two shots from a 38-caliber Colt's double-action revolver, and in the struggle for possession of the weapon two more shots were discharged, none of which, how-ever, took effect. One of the bullets went THE CROCKER-WOOLWORTH within a few inches of the Judge's head, but the second flew wide of the mark and perforated the ceiling half-way down the A large crowd gathered in response to Judge Shafter's cries for assistance, among them being several officers from the City Hall Police Station. Lange was immediately disarmed and taken to the juil, where he was locked up on a charge of assault to murder. Judge Shafter was taken into Judge Hunt's Court-room, where he soon recovered from his excitement and said he was unhurt.

CAUSE OF THE ATTACK. It appears that Lange is a brother of the wife of Dr. James Shafter, son of the dis-tinguished man whom he attempted to murder. Mrs. James Shafter was married in Germany and came to this courtry with J street, the building recently occupied by he Royal Restaurant. The best meals in the large husband about seven years ago. Judge first time. Shafter and his family were greatly opposed. Shafter and his family were greatly opposed to the marriage, and endeavored to prevent the young man from bringing his wife to this country. Shortly after arriving here therefore, the feeling between her and her husband's family continued, until finally in the early part of last year Dr Shafter began an action against her for divorce. In the meantime

THE BROTHER MAKES THREATS. Carl Lange, who is by profession a sailor, arrived here and espoused his sister's cause, making at different times, as is alleged, threats against the lives of the doctor and various other members of the Shafter family. The suit for divorce was tried in Judge Hunt's Court and submitted a few days ago. To-day additional testimony was taken by Judge Hunt as to the value of a ranch known as the Riverside, near lema, Marin county, which belongs to Dr. Shafter.

Judge Shafter came to the City Hall to testify in this inquiry. As he left the ele-vator, and was about to enter the Courtroom, which is on the upper floor, he was confronted by Lange who asked him if hi name was Shafter. The Judge answered that such was his name, when, stepping between him and the door, Lange drew a revolver and fired. ALMOST WIPED OUT.
